An Introduction to C++ for C Programmers (part 1)

Jonathan Thornburg

Albert Einstein Institute

Johnston Hall 338
October 18, 2006 - 08:30 am

Abstract:
This talk aims to provide a brief introduction to the C++ Programming language, assuming that listeners already know C. I will try to give a general overview of both C++'s strengths and its weaknesses.

Speaker's Bio:
Since spring 2001, I'm a postdoc in the numerical relativity group at the Albert-Einstein-Institut (Max Planck Institut f
